2017 FALL SERIES

Wouldn't you agree, Autumn is one of the best times of the year? The leaves change from bright green to magical shades of red, orange and gold. The air has a crisp, cool feeling to it unlike any other season!

Not to mention it's also the beginning of all the fun Holidays of the year like Halloween and Christmas!

To help celebrate this amazing season, I've created the Fall 2017 Collection of artwork to share with you.

You can also read a little explanation of why painting nest art makes perfect sense.

Maybe you will find a painting here that speaks to you in a positive and encouraging way.

"Life starts all over again when it gets crisp in the fall."

-f.scott fitzgerald

Butterflies Are Free
20X16 Acrylic on Canvas
by Blenda Tyvoll

Once a lowly green caterpillar inching it's way along with nowhere important to go. Then one day it wakes up to a brand new world, transformed and reborn into a beautiful delicately winged thing to behold. The butterfly, happy and free!

Bloom Where You Are Planted

Sunflowers big and bold against a pastel blue sky. This painting was inspired by the quote, "How wonderful yellow is. It stands for the sun" by Van Gogh and his beautiful sunflower paintings.

Celestial Sky Garden

"I often think that the night is more alive and more richly colored than the day."

- Van Gogh

The Nest Series

Here's Why Painting Nest Art Makes Such Perfect Sense:

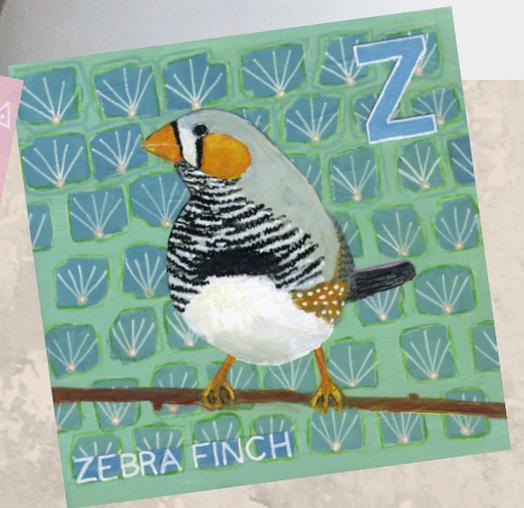

I hadn't given it much thought until lately when a collector asked, "Why the bird's nests? This is a new subject for you." I couldn't really explain why. But then this morning when I awoke it was like one of those "aha" moments. To me a bird's nest symbolizes rebirth and renewal of life. Life goes on. There is the sadness of loss, but life renews it's self. The round circle shape of the nest symbolizes the circle of life.
